INCREASED OPERATING COST CAUSES ADVANCE

New Gas Wells Necessary so Gas Price Must Go Up

TANGIBLE TALE TOLD

Expense of Laying New Pipe Lines Into West Virginia Considered

Increased cost of operation is, briefly stated the cause of the advance in the gas rate announced by the Greensboro Gas company for its Charleroi and California consumers.

Plans are on foot for the building of a new pipe line into West Virginia it is understood and new wells will be opened up in that state. This increased expenditure will be borne by the consumers under the eight per cent advance in rates declared by the selling company. Piping of gas from West Virginia will be a more costly operation than piping it from nearby territory, according to the representative of the company along the Monongahela valley.

At the present time Charleroi and California consumers use gas that is piped from wells in various parts of Westmoreland, Washington, Green and Fayette counties.

Charleroi's and California's rate will now be up to the top notch for towns in this section with one exception and that exception is Monessen. Monessen consumers pay 30 cents per thousand cubic feet, but have a discount of 2 1-2 cents, where Charleroi and California will have a discount of three cents. However, Monongahela pays 20 cents. But Monongahela has two companies. The company operating at Monessen is the People's Gas company the personnel of the directorate of which is understood to be practically the same as that of the Greensboro Gas company. The announcement of the increase of the Greensboro Gas company has been made in every place where the company operates, and it is understood to be universally the same.

Honor J. A. McIlvaine

Seventieth Birthday of President Judge of County Fitly Celebrated

In honor of Judge J. A. McIlvaine's 70th birthday the Washington county bar association tendered him a banquet at Washington today evening. Almost 100 guests were present. Composed chiefly of attorneys and visiting jurists. R. W. Irwin, Esq., of Washington officiated as toastmaster and many brilliant addresses were made by distinguished guests present. Letters of regret were read from jurists in high official circles, and a feature was a letter from Judge J. F. Taylor who is taking treatment at the John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore and could not be present.

Judge McIlvaine responded in happy vein and was deeply appreciative of the honor bestowed upon him.

TO LOCATE NEW PLANT

Two Million Dollars to be Spent at Burgettstown

TO MAKE CHEMICALS

By an agreement signed in Pittsburgh Friday between the American Metal Company, Ltd., of New York and John A. Bell, Washington county will be given a new $2,000,000 zinc smelter and sulphuric acid plant. It is to be located in Burgettstown. The deal just consummated was for 2,500 cases of the Pittsburgh vein of coal, and 350 acres of surface on the lines of the Pan Handle Railroad. Burgettstown is 27 1-2 miles east of Pittsburgh and is eight miles east of Collier's Station, just at the West Virginia line.

The American Zinc and Chemical Company, a subsidiary concern of the American Metal Company, Ltd., is being organized under a Pennsylvania charter to operate the new plant. N. L. Heinz a metallurgical and acid expert is to be general manager of the concern. He formerly was connected with the Matthiessen & Hegeler Zinc Co., of La Salle, Ill. The new factory will not be completed for about a year. The company plans to build a model town for its employees, which will number about 500 when the concern starts operations.

At first it is proposed to erect a one-unit plant with a capacity for 40,000 tons of sulphuric acid and 20,000 tons of zinc annually. The intention is to increase the plant gradually to three or four times its original production. Coal mining by shaft will give the concern fuel on its own property. Within three years it is proposed to increase the cost of the entire property to about $4,000,000. With the enlarged plant it is figured (Continued on Third Page.)

ENTERTAIN SUPREME COMMANDER OF ORDER

Miss Bina M. West Visits Donora Where She is

Greeted by Lady Maccabees From All Along Monongahela Valley

Several hundred Lady Maccabees from various Monongahela valley towns braved the inclement weather and journeyed to Donora Friday to meet the supreme commander of the order, Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Mich. There were large delegations from all the hives in the Monongahela valley. Other distinguished guests were Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, state commander of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Harriet M. Ellsworth, past commander of Pennsylvania.

The meeting was called to order promptly at 2 by Miss Lounsbury. After the hive opening, which was beautifully given by Donora guards, there was a large class of candidates initiated by the supreme commander, assisted by State Commander Lounsbury, the Charleroi guards under Captain Mary McGee exemplifying the floor work.

A silver offering was taken—the march being led by the Charleroi guards. This offering together with checks from the various hives amounted to more than fifty dollars. This money goes to the hospital and Home Fund. The aim is to establish free beds in hospitals in each state where members of the order may be treated free of charge. For this work $100,000 is required and $32,000 has already been raised. Pennsylvania is giving over $2,000.

The supreme commander gave an hour's talk on subjects dear to the Maccabees. Her address was listened to attentively, Miss West being an exceedingly eloquent speaker.

The Donora guards gave a beautiful military drill under direction of Capt. Schaaf, their military instructor. A reception was held for Miss West and the state officers to close the most auspicious event.

Charleroi Circle No. 303, Protected Home Circle entertained Friday night after their regular meeting at a pie social. The affair drew a large crowd and a most enjoyable evening was the result.

"Gentlemen of the Jury; the life of this man is in your hands. The evidence has been purely circumstantial. Should you convict him, each one of you will have committed the crime of murder."

In this picture the powerful company of Eclair principals, who have made such a wonderful success in the Northwest series, are at their best. The story in itself is wonderful in its power and the action throughout is most exciting. The tense situations hold the interest through every foot of the film. The settings are magnificent and the detail is absolutely superb throughout. Some exceptionally beautiful effects are presented, and the snow scenes are like fairy land. This feature is one of the most powerful subjects which has ever been presented on the motion picture screen. It will not only delight every audience but it will be talked about for weeks and weeks following its presentation, also Lucretia Borgia, 2 part Eclair, the Great Italian Poisoner.

Depart Within Ten Days' Specified Time Limit

Monessen Still Suffers It Is Understood From Disorderly Houses

Houses in Wireton said to have been formerly used for immoral purposes are understood to be empty today. Some time ago District Attorney W. T. Dom, of Westmoreland county visited Monessen and Wireton and ordered supposed loose characters about the two places to depart, giving them ten days time to do it. In Wireton his word has been obeyed to the letter, although at the lower end of Monessen it is understood to have had little effect.

Where the women and others went to from the red light district is unknown, but the rumor was quickly circulated in Monessen this morning that Charleroi was getting a supply of disorderlies. This was not stated for fact but as a rumor with some degree of authenticity.

When District Attorney Dom paid his respects to the Wireton residents and those who rent houses there, and told the tenderloin inhabitants to get out, he meant it. As proof he sent this week County Detective S. O. Fleming to Monessen to investigate and to see that his orders were obeyed.

The worst section of Wireton was the section where the shooting of Policeman Michael Entinger occurred some weeks ago that resulted in the active campaign instituted for a clean up.

With the notorious Wireton rid of its immoral rubbish the Monessen crusaders for decency will turn their attention to the alleged resorts at the lower end of the town, which are said to exist in spite of the advertising they are being given. Only this week a man was shot at a house near the borough line said to have been used as an assembling place for immoral purposes. The story of the affair is being investigated.

The state police located at Monessen are taking an active hand in the cleaning up of the community.

THE BACK YARD GARDEN.

That the backyard may be a potent factor in reducing the cost of living, the Mail has more than once asserted. The following from the Harrisburg Telegraph along the same lines may be of timely interest just now. The Telegraph says:

"We have said it before, but it is worth repeating. There is no good reason why the occupant of a small lot in town or city should complain about the high cost of living in the summer time. If he is willing to endure sore muscles for a brief period and to undertake perhaps unaccustomed labor with a spade and rake, exercises which will be better for his physical well being than golf or baseball he may make his spare ground return big dividends.

"Every backyard on which the sun shines with reasonable warmth can be made to produce fresh vegetables enough to supply the average family in abundance and variety not surpassed by the menus of expensive hotels.
Every food requirement can be met with vegetables grown in the backyard garden. It is indeed difficult to find the soil or location which will not produce good crops if the proper skill and care be used in fertilizing and mechanically preparing the soil and in selecting the seed.

"Statistics prove that the high cost of living is not due to increased cost of producing food entirely, but that a big proportion of the high prices is paid to the middleman. Every owner of a garden is independent of the middleman."

CLEAN UP!

With the advent of spring it is time for every property owner to make an annual spring cleaning of his premises, and to haul away the rubbish that may have accumulated during the winter. As a rule Charleroi property owners generally take pride in keeping their premises looking spick and span, but in some of the tenement quarters there is always more or less neglect. Vacant lots and unoccupied ground catch an undue amount of debris, and it is these that demand the most attention.

Charleroi is often complimented over the manner in which the paved streets are kept clean. The borough officials are doing their part in this respect and are willing at all times to lend aid to the citizens in cleaning up private property, where necessary.
At times and under special conditions the borough teams have been ed to haul away refuse from private property and these are no doubt available at any time under extraordinary conditions. With every property owner doing his part to

"help keep Charleroi clean" the town will maintain its reputation of being the cleanest and well kept town of the valley.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is told that a certain Charleroi resident tried for three quarters of an hour to get a telephone call over the long distance phone to Pittsburg. He called up the central and asked her how soon he was going to have the connection made. She astonished him by the information that she didn't know he had a call in, and asked him the name of the place he wanted.

"The morgue," he answered patiently.

"The what?"

"The morgue," still patiently.

"Mister, I don't understand, will you spell it?"

"M-o-r-g-u-e. Morgue. Do you get that?"

"No, spell it again."

"Aw, I'll call the wire chief. It'll be a heap easier."

Accordingly he called the wire chief. To that individual at the other end of the line, he explained at considerable length that he wanted to talk to the morgue, in Pittsburg and was in a hurry.

At the end of his statement the wire chief affably answered.

"Yes, now what is it you want?"

That the service from the public booth telephone in his office is "rotten" and that to use it is the acid test for religion is the opinion of a local man who has had to be bothered continually and exceedingly over a telephone in his place of business.
He prohibits swearing in his office but to date has discovered no way of prohibiting swearing over the telephone, so simply has pasted this notice on the door of the booth:

Notice.

"The service over this telephone is very bad. If you express your opinion of it please do so within the booth with the door closed."

A DETECTIVE STORY.

One They Tell in London on Two American Police Officers.

As an illustration of the good nature of Frank Frost, who used to be chief of Scotland Yard, they tell this story in London.

Many years ago two American detectives came to be in London together, awaiting the extradition of criminals who had been arrested in England for offenses committed in the United States. The hotel where was then American headquarters in London, and one evening the two Hawks-shaws, who had had a conviva-lity, fell asleep side by side on a divan in the big smoking room of the motel. An American humorist found a suit of handkerchiefs in the of the umbrella of the hotel and preceeded to smoke the pair together when for two or three hours the stumbled peacefully while the guest-of the hotel, American and English, including the ladies, came to gaze upon the scene.

When the detectives finally awakened about 1 o'clock in the morning it was impossible to find a key to the handkerchiefs and hence impossible to liberate them. They would not believe sending to a police station for assistance lest the story of their ridiculous plight get out, but they had confidence that Frost, who was then a plain detective inspector, would not betray them. A messenger to Scotland Yard, near by, learned that Frost had gone home long before, but got his address several miles away in the suburbs. An American newspaper man who knew Frost reached his home by cab after 2 o'clock in the morning. He was awakened from slumber and without protest came all the way to the Victoria and released his fellow craftsmen.—New York Sun

Laugh and Live Long.

It has been aptly said that there is not the remotest corner of the inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsions occasioned by good hearty laughter. The life principle of the central man is shaken to its innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood flows more freely, and conveys a life-giving impression to all the organs of the body as it is when on the part of the body is when the man is laughing from the convulsed at other times. For this reason every good hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, conveys as it does, new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

What Wellington Was Doing

When Sir John Steen the surgeon had the Iron Duke sitting for a statue he tried to induce him to look warlike.
All his efforts were in vain, however.
For Wellington seemed, judging by his face, never to have heard of Waterloo or Talavera. At last Sir John lost patience. "As I am going to make this statue of your grace," he exclaimed,
"can you not tell me what you were doing before say, the battle of Salamanca? Were you not galloping about the field, cheering on your men to deeds of valor by words and action?"
"Bah!" said the duke in evident ecorn. "If you really want to make me as I was on the morning of Salamanca, then do me crawling along a ditch on my stomach with a telescope in my hand."

A War Bismarck Forget.
The smallest of Europe's sovereign states, Liechtenstein, has a monarch and a parliament, but no taxes and no army. Its finances are provided by its Prince John II., who in return dominates three of its fifteen members of parliament. At the time of the Austro-Prussian war the principality sided with Austria and mobilized an army of 100 of all ranks to share in the fighting. But Liechtenstein's army never smelled fire, and Liechtenstein itself was quite overlooked in the peace negotiations at the end of the war. Fifteen years later Bismarck discovered that his country was still technically at war with this miniature state, and in strict accordance with the etiquette of such things pourpayers took place, and a formal treaty of peace was signed between the two countries.—West

A Stone Eater.

The oddest diet in the world is stones. In an old volume of the Gentleman's Magazine is described the discovery of a stone eater "in a northern uninhabited island" by the crew of a Dutch ship. They brought him to France in May, 1760, where he was submitted to all kinds of scientific tests. It was proved that he thrived better on stones than on any other food, and his dinner usually consisted of large sized flints, with powdered marbles for dessert. He became a great attraction at fashionable gatherings, where he amused the guests by swallowing stones and afterward convincing them that there was no deception by making them rattle in his stomach.—London Chronicle.

THE COYLE-CHARLEROI.

One of the striking features of the Coyle Theatre's most excellent repertoire this week was "Nemesis, or the 19 Down Express." This was the story of a wife's infidelity to a good husband, and the terrible retribution that overtook her later. The picture was in three parts, and in addition were two other splendid two reel films the same night. These were "Thou Shalt Not Steal," and "From Death-Life." Throughout the week the bills were equally good, if not so voluminous. The service contained among other "A Grain of Salt," a sensational experience of a young investor among some of the upper classes of Mexican nobility. The young man seeks investment, but finds a sweetheart in the form of a despised cousin of the Mexican senora, after some exciting adventures when the head of the house plots to defraud his guest. Another striking drama in the opening was "A Lucky Shot," in which a young girl of the border who is captured by Mexicans, escapes, and by a lucky shot saves a senorita from death who helped her to escape. A great feature for Saturday is a moving picture version in three reels of that beautiful old time Irish drama, "Kathleen Mavourneen." This is the drama where the pretty Irish girl comes very near marrying the lord who is struck by her charm and beauty, but a lucky dream, in which is pictured what was most likely to follow the ill-assorted match warns her in time, and she accepts the bold Irish lad, whom she has kept dangling in suspense while flirting with the lord.

THE STAR-CHARLEROI

With a topnotch schedule for the whole week, it would be difficult to classify any extraordinary features at the Star Theatre. "Smiling Dan," a Kay Bee, was one of the distinctive features of Monday's schedule. "Some Doctor" and a "Close Shave," and "Bud Tilden, Mail Thief," completed the Monday bill, which was at fair sample of the schedule for each day thereafter. Among some of the most prominent were "The Romance," "Half Way to Reno," "Finner Things," "Some Fools There Were," and "Forced Bravery." "The Sharpshooters," was a two reel Broncho, that was thrilling and sensational. An unusual feature in the picture, the "Pretty Girl in Lower Five," which was a story of a young man meeting a pretty girl in a Pullman on the way from Chicago to Los Angeles. Aside from the usual courtship miles and miles of desert and mountain scenery were shown. The week's bill was also exceedingly strong in comedy, among which were "The Hired Dress Suit," "Heinze's Resurrection," "The Landlord's Troubles" and others. For Saturday Manager Cowan has a big two reel Reliance feature, "The Bells," which is a master piece as shown by Henry Irving. He has also booked for Saturday, "The Deadman's Child," in three reels. For Monday the Star will open with a two reel Kay Bee, "The Counterfeiters" on the bill.

THE NIXON-PITTSBURG

Spectacular magnificence, dramatic splendor and religious ecstasy are the most notable concomitants of production of "Ben Hur," which will be the offering at the Nixon Theatre, Pittsburgh, the week commencing Monday evening, April 14, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. During the thirteen years which have passed since the original presentation of this noble drama—its owners have not only kept it up to its original grandeur, but have elaborated and developed the possibilities of the production each season, until today it stands unrivaled in beauty and splendor of establishment, unsurpassed in dramatic significance and power. Dealing with the earth life of Jesus, the most important period in history, "Ben Hur" shows the world at its most wonderful point in magnificence and wealth, for Rome ruled the world and Caesar Augustus was Emperor of the mightiest realm the earth had known. Into this time of display and pomp came the lowly Nazarene, the Christos for whom the nation had longed, and it is this personality of Jesus that, permeating the fabric of the Wallace-Young drama, makes it a sermon as well as a drama of tremendous significance. The reverence with which the immensity of Christ is indicated has made "Ben Hur" a religious pageant, while the sweep of the story of Ben Hur and Messala, Esther and Iras, carries audiences off their feet, the culmination of the dramatic plot being the chariot race, wherein Ben Hur conquers and degrades his enemy.

Nothing more realistic than this scene in the arena of the Circus of Antioch with Ben Hur and Messala contesting for supremacy has ever been imagined by a dramatist or executed by a producer. The race enthralls because on its outcome depends life, love, honor, riches to the victor, and when Ben Hur receives the victor's crown of wild olive, audiences applaud with the greatest enthusiasm.

The prices for all performances are 50 cents to $1.50. Mail orders will be placed on sale Thursday April 10.

THE GRAND-PITTSBURG

"The New Song Birds," one of the most unusual as well as one of the cleverest satires that has yet been produced, tops the program of refined international vaudeville on the tapis for the forthcoming week, beginning Monday afternoon, April 14, in the Grand. The two men responsible for the operatic travesty, Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart, provide a vehicle of undoubted excellence. "The Song Birds" is a travesty on the conditions prevailing in grand opera, and the characters are caricatures of the most eminent grand opera stars in the world. Miss Louise Galloway, in "Little Mother," presents a story of love and truth, a tale of the home that touches a human chord of real sympathy. A tornado of mirth will be provoked by Jack Wilson, who, supported by Franklyn Batie, and Ada Lane, will play "An Upheaval in Darktown." Signor Trovata, the eccentric violinist, who was one of the stars with Harry Lauder, has been engaged to play a selection of tunes popular and classic. The grown folks, as well as the little ones, will appreciate Zerk's Dogs of all nations. Nelly V. Nichols, a character singing comedienne and mimic, will entertain with group of caricature impersonations and songs. Brown and Blyer will give a diversion of songs and patter to piano accompaniment, with just enough of terpsichore as a seasoning. The program next week will embrace a new selection of talking motion pictures. The principal subject will be the third act of "Master Mind," a wonderfully successful play in which Edmund Breeze and company are enjoying the most remarkable run of the season at the Harris Theatre, New York, and another entitled "The Worm Turns," a little story of comic import.

POINTED TRUTHS TOLD IN LECTURE BY JUDGE ALDEN

Man, home, town and commonwealth are the four things that Judge George D. Alden a Bostonian of unusual talents lectured on principally at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday in the closing number of the Charleroi Citizens' Entertainment Course. Incidentally he threw in a lot of talk about health and religion, temperance and other more or less important issues.

Proving his popularity attained on his former visit here Judge Alden drew a good sized crowd. He spoke his pleasure at being returned to Charleroi and told his audience that this was one of the places that he vividly remembered having visited because of the excellent entertainment afforded him. Before the lecture Friday night Judge Alden was a guest at a luncheon tendered by the Community Club, of which he is an honorary member.

His lecture title was "The Powder and the Hatch." The lecture was one of the best and most intelligent presentation of facts that has ever been heard here.

Judge Alden said that you couldn't legislate a man or a set of men into being good, but by that compelling personality of human touch you could often persuade him to be good. "Public opinion" is the thing that in many cases guides a man's destinies he said in effect.

As the climax to his address, Judge Alden spoke of home life. He deplored the growing tendency of parents to not communicate to their children the vital truths of life on the assumption that by doing so would have a destructive tendency to their morals. Children will learn, if not at home, at a worse place and through means not best calculated to improve them mentally or morally. "Mental perversion is the process of physical degeneracy," he said.

by the promoters that the concern will employ 4,500 men. Houses in the proposed new model town will be of brick and of the cottage type. The selection of Burgettstown for the new plant was made by Mr. Heinz and Dr. Otto Sussman, chief mining engineer of the American Metal Company, Ltd., after eight months search.

Tests were made of the coal and it is estimated that enough can be found on the property to supply the concern working for 75 years. R. W. Cooke, industrial agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Lines West, suggested the site approved.

The American Metal Company, Ltd., has plants at Bartlesville and Collinsville, Okla.; Altoona, Pa., and in Kansas. The concern is said to be one of the largest producers of zinc in the union.

Donates $400 to Playground.

At a special meeting of the Monessen council Thursday night it was voted to appropriate $400 for the public playground to be fitted up at the Electric Park grounds.

The keynote of the lecture, however was the use of public opinion and personal influence in righting wrong conditions. That the community is no better than the men who live in it and that to improve the community each man must improve himself were leading thoughts.

DR. EHRENFELD TO RETIRE FROM SCHOOL ACTIVITY

Dr. C. L. Ehrenfeld, former principal of the Southwestern State Normal school at California, and a widely known educator has rendered his resignation as teacher to the Normal trustees to take effect after the close of the school year.

Dr. Ehrenfeld has been connected with the California institution for 26 years. Though 82 years old he is still one of the strongest members of the faculty there, as well as one of the most popular. He occupies the chairs of psychology and school management.

Dr. Ehrenfeld accepted the principalship of California Normal in 1871, after having held pastorates at Altoona, Shippensburg and Holhdaysburg. He held the Normal position until 1877, when he resigned to take the position of financial secretary of the Department of Public Instruction. In 1878 he was appointed State Librarian and in 1881 he resigned that place to accept the chairs successively of Latin, English and of English and Logic at Wittenberg University, his alma mater. In 1892 he returned to California where he has since remained.

Dr. Ehrenfeld holds the degree of A. B., A. M. and Ph. D., Wittenberg.

COTTON PODS COME FROM THE SUNNY SOUTH

Through the courtesy of Chris. Brown, Jr., who with Mrs. Brown recently made a trip to Tennessee, the Mail has received a handsome souvenir of the "sunny south." This is a natural cotton boll, just as it grew in the fields of the Dixie cotton belt. The souvenir is enclosed in a handsome pasteboard carton, on which are printed directions how to plant, desired and to grow it on northern soil. To those who have never seen how cotton grows, the souvenir is most interesting.

YSAYS TO PLAY IN PITTSBURG NEXT TUESDAY

An announcement that is hailed with delight is the coming of Eugene Ysaye, the world's greatest violinist, to Pittsburg for a concert on Tuesday evening, April 15th, in Soldiers Memorial Hall. After negotiations covering practically the entire season, satisfactory arrangements have finally been made to have this celebrated master of the bow include Pittsburg in his tour. So many requests have been received for an appearance of Ysaye in Pittsburg this season, that it is safe to predict a capacity audience will greet him when he plays there on April 15th. The great virtuoso announces that this is positively his last visit to America, as he is averse to again undertaking the hardships in travel necessary for a concert tour. He is now a wealthy man and will live on his estate in Belgium, with short tours of the continent during the winter season, so this will be the last opportunity the music lovers of this district will have of hearing the world's greatest violinist in this country. Before coming to America for the present tour, he required a guarantee of $90,000 for the season which was furnished without question for his manager had a sweeping demand for his return. It has been a number of years since Ysaye played in Pittsburg, and to hear him again will be a treat no lover of music will care to miss. He possesses a magnetism which charms alike the musician and the amateur, because of his perfect musical expression. He is not a mere virtuoso; he is a matured artist and an incomparable master the greatest living interpreter of the works of the old masters. Ysaye will play a special program in Pittsburg, for he has been besieged with request numbers and he will bring with him a pianist of world-wide repute.

The sale of tickets will open at Hamilton's Music Store, 531 Wood street, on Friday morning, April 11th at prices of 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Mail orders, accompanied by remittance, are received now, and filled in advance.

INCREASED OPERATING COST CAUSES ADVANCE

New Gas Wells Necessary so Gas Price Must Go Up

TANGIBLE TALE TOLD

Expense of Laying New Pipe Lines Into West Virginia Considered

Increased cost of operation is, briefly stated the cause of the advance in the gas rate announced by the Greensboro Gas company for its Charleroi and California consumers.

Plans are on foot for the building of a new pipe line into West Virginia. It is understood and new wells will be opened up in that state. This increased expenditure will be borne by the consumers under the eight per cent advance in rates declared by the selling company. Piping of gas from West Virginia will be a more costly operation than piping it from nearby territory, according to the representative of the company along the Monongahela valley.

At the present time Charleroi and California consumers use gas that is piped from wells in various parts of Westmoreland, Washington, Green and Fayette counties.

Charleroi's and California's rate will now be up to the top notch for towns in this section with one exception and that exception is Monessen. Monessen consumers pay 30 cents per thousand cubic feet, but have a discount of 2 1-2 cents, where Charleroi and California will have a discount of three cents. However, Monongahela pays 20 cents. But Monongahela has two companies. The company operating at Monessen is the People's Gas company the personnel of the directorate of which is understood to be practically the same as that of the Greensboro Gas company.

The announcement of the increase of the Greensboro Gas company has been made in every place where the company operates, and it is understood to be universally the same.

See Colonial Market Co. ad on page two today. 222t3

To Natural Gas Consumers
After the reading of the meters in April, 1913, and until further notice, the price of natural gas to domestic consumers of this company will be 30 cents per thousand cubic feet with a discount of 3 cents per thousand on bills paid on or before the 10th day of the month.

Honor J. A. McIlvaine

Seventieth Birthday of President Judge of County Fitly Celebrated

In honor of Judge J. A. McIlvaine's 70th birthday the Washington county bar association tendered him a banquet at Washington today evening. Almost 100 guests were present, composed chiefly of attorneys and visiting jurists. R. W. Irwin, Esq., of Washington officiated as toastmaster and many brilliant addresses were made by distinguished guests present. Letters of regret were read from jurists in high official circles, and a feature was a letter from Judge J. F. Taylor who is taking treatment at the John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore and could not be present.

Judge McIlvaine responded in happy vein and was deeply appreciative of the honor bestowed upon him.

Two Million Dollars to be Spent at Burgettstown

TO MAKE CHEMICALS

By an agreement signed in Pittsburgh Friday between the American Metal Company, Ltd., of New York and John A. Bell, Washington county will be given a new $2,000,000 zinc smelter and sulphuric acid plant. It is to be located in Burgettstown. The deal just consummated was for 2,500 cases of the Pittsburgh vein of coal, and 350 acres of surface on the lines of the Pan Handle Railroad. Burgettstown is 27 1-2 miles west of Pittsburgh and is eight miles east of Collier's Station, just at the West Virginia line.

The American Zinc and Chemical Company, a subsidiary concern of the American Metal Company, Ltd., is being organized under a Pennsylvania charter to operate the new plant. N. L. Heinz a metallurgical and acid expert is to be general manager of the concern. He formerly was connected with the Mathiessen & Hegeler Zinc Co., of La Salle, Ill. The new factory will not be completed for about a year. The company plans to build a model town for its employees, which will number about 500 when the concern starts operations.

At first it is proposed to erect a one-unit plant with a capacity for 40,000 tons of sulphuric acid and 20,000 tons of zinc annually. The intention is to increase the plant gradually to three or four times its original production. Coal mining by shaft will give the concern fuel on its own property. Within three years it is proposed to increase the cost of the entire property to about $4,000,000.

With the enlarged plant it is figured (Continued on Third Page.)

Miss Bina M. West Visits Donora Where She is Greeted by Lady Maccabees From All Along Monongahela Valley

Several hundred Lady Maccabees march being led by the Charleroi guards. This offering together with checks from the various hives amounted to more than fifty dollars. This money goes to the hospital and Home Fund. The aim is to establish free beds in hospitals in each state where members of the order may be treated free of charge. For this work $100,000 is required and $32,000 has already been raised. Pennsylvania is giving over $2,000.

The supreme commander gave an hour's talk on subjects dear to the Maccabees. Her address was listened to attentively. Miss West being an exceedingly eloquent speaker. The Donora guards gave a beautiful military drill under direction of Capt. Schaaf, their military instructor. A reception was held for Miss West and the state officers to close the most auspicious event.

REBEKAHS HOLD PLEASING SOCIAL

The silver social given last evening by the Iris Rebekah Lodge I. O. O. F., surpassed any of its kind, both financially and socially and was a marked success. About thirty members from Sarah Ellen Lodge of Monongahela visited here, and after a short session of lodge the doors were open to those in search of a sociable evening and a good lunch. It is safe to say none were disappointed, as over ninety persons were served. Music games and songs were the diversions of the evening.

Valley Press Members Meet

Newspaper Men "Get Together" At California as Guests of "The Lamps"

As guests of the California Sentinel the Monongahela Valley Press Association was entertained at California Friday. A delicious chicken and waffle supper was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, after which a business meeting was held when matters of importance to the fraternity were discussed. Those present were R. T. Wiley, who has recently severed his connection with the Elizabeth Herald to go to Seattle, Washington, E. D. Little of the Brownsville Clipper-Monitor, L. E. Flint of the Monongahela Times, Will H. Watson of the Donora American, Louis Gaziou of L'Union Des Travailleurs of Charleroi, H. E. Price and E. C. Niver of the Charleroi Mail, and H. L. and A. H. Lamb and C. L. Hudson of the California Sentinel. The next meeting will be held in either Charleroi or at Eldora Park the latter part of May.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Athene Club Fills Positions for the Ensuing Year

"ITALY" TO BE SUBJECT

Officers were elected by the Athene club and the subject of study chosen for the ensuing year at the meeting of the organization held at the home of Mrs. George Cooper on Fallowfield avenue Friday afternoon.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Thomas Brown; first vice president, Mrs. E. C. Niver; second vice president, Mrs. T. M. Faddis; recording secretary, Mrs. E. E. Piper; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Cooper; treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Mountsier.

"Italy" will be the subject of study for next year. This year's study was "Inventors and Scientists." At the meeting Mrs. A. R. Mountsier gave a paper, "Louis Agassiz."

Two new members of the club were present, Mrs. J. D. Berynan, and Mrs. C. S. VanVoorhis, and one new member was elected, Mrs. C. C. Wright. The final meeting will be held on April 25, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Piper when the reports of the club officers for the year will be received.

Houses in Wireton said to have been formerly used for immoral purposes are understood to be empty today. Some time ago District Attorney W. T. Dom, of Westmoreland county visited Monessen and Wireton and ordered supposed loose characters about the two places to depart, giving them ten days time to do it. In Wireton his word has been obeyed to the letter, although at the lower end of Monessen it is understood to have had little effect.

Where the women and others went to from the red light district is unknown, but the rumor was quietly circulated in Monessen this morning that Charleroi was getting a supply of disorderlies. This was not stated for fact but as a rumor with some degree of authenticity.

When District Attorney Dom paid his respects to the Wireton residents and those who rent houses there, and told the tenderloin inhabitants to get out, he meant it. As proof he sent this week County Detective S. O. Fleming to Monessen to investigate and to see that his orders were obeyed.

The worst section of Wireton was the section where the shooting of Policeman Michael Entinger occurred some weeks ago that resulted in the active campaign instituted for a clean up.

With the notorious Wireton rid of its immoral rubbish the Monessen crusaders for decency will turn their attention to the alleged resorts at the lower end of the town, which are said to exist in spite of the advertising they are being given. Only this week a man was shot at a house near the borough line said to have been used as an assembling place for immoral purposes. The story of the affair is being investigated.

The state police located at Monessen are taking an active hand in the cleaning up of the community.

THE BACK YARD GARDEN.

That the backyard may be a potent factor in reducing the cost of living, the Mail has more than once asserted. The following from the Harrisburg Telegraph along the
same lines may be of timely interest just now. The Telegraph says:

"We have said it before, but it is worth repeating. There is no good reason why the occupant of a small
lot in town or city should complain
about the high cost of living in the summer time. If he is willing to endure sore muscles for a brief period
and to undertake perhaps unaccustomed labor with a spade and rake, exercises which will be better for his physical well being than golf or baseball he may make his spare ground a big dividend.

"Every backyard on which the sun shines with reasonable warmth can
be made to produce fresh vegetables
enough to supply the average family in abundance and variety not surpas-sed by the menus of expensive hotels.
Every food requirement can be met
with vegetables grown in the backyard garden. It is indeed difficult to find the soil or location which will
not produce good crops if the proper
skill and care be used in fertilizing
and mechanically preparing the soil
and in selecting the seed.

"Statistics prove that the high cost of living is not due to increased cost
of producing food entirely, but that
a big proportion of the high prices
is paid to the middleman. Every owner of a garden is independent of the middleman."

CLEAN UP.

With the advent of spring it is time for every property owner to make an annual spring cleaning of
his premises, and to haul away the rubbish that may have accumulated
during the winter. As a rule Charleroi property owners generally take pride in keeping their premises looking spick and span, but in some of
the tenement quarters there is always more or less neglect. Vacant lots and unoccupied ground catch an
undue amount of debris, and it is these that demand the most attention.

Charleroi is often complimented in the manner in which the paved streets are kept clean. The borough officials are doing their part in this respect and are willing at all times to lend aid to the citizens in cleaning up vacant property where necessary.
At times and under special conditions the borough team has been

ed to haul away refuse from private
property and these are no doubt available at any time under extraordinary conditions. With every property owner doing his part to
"help keep Charleroi clean" the town will maintain its reputation of being
the cleanest and well kept town of the valley.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is told that a certain Charleroi resident tried for three quarters of an hour to get a telephone call over
the long distance phone to Pittsburg. He called up the central and asked her how soon he was going to have the connection made. She astonished him by the information that
asked him the name of the place he wanted.

"The morgue," he answered patiently.

"The what?"
"The morgue," still patiently.
"Mister, I don't understand, will
you spell it?"

"M-o-r-g-u-e. Morgue. Do you get that?"

"No, spell it again."

"Aw, I'll call the wire chief. It'll
be a heap easier."

Accordingly he called the wire chief. To that individual at the other end of the line, he explained at considerable length that he wanted to talk to the morgue, in Pittsburgh and was in a hurry.

At the end of his statement the
wire chief affably answered.

"Yes, now what is it you want?"

That the service from the public
booth telephone in his office is "rotten" and that to use it is the acid test for religion is the opinion of a local man who has had to be bothered continually and exceedingly over a telephone in his place of business.
He prohibits swearing in his office
but to date has discovered no way of prohibiting swearing over the telephone, so simply has pasted this notice on the door of the booth:

Notice.

"The service over this telephone is very bad. If you express your opinion of it please do so within the booth
with the door closed."

A DETECTIVE STORY.

One They Tell in London on Two American Police Officials.

As an illustration of the good nature of Froest, who used to be called a Scotland Yard, they tell this story in London:

Many years ago two American detectives came to be in London together, awaiting the extradition of
criminals who had been arrested in England for offenses committed in the United States. The Hotel Victoria was then American headquarters in London, and one evening the two Hawshaws, who had had a convivial day, fell asleep side by side on a divan in the big smoking room of the motel. An American humorist found a pair of handcuffs in the office of the manager of the hotel and preceeded to snackle the pair together when for two or three hours they slumbered peacefully while the guests of the hotel, American and English, including the ladies, came to gaze upon
the scene.

When the detectives finally awakened about 1 o'clock in the morning, it was impossible to find a key to the handcuffs and hence impossible to liberate them. They would not bear of sending to a police station for assistance lest the story of their ridiculous plight get out, but they had confidence that Froest, who was then a plain detective inspector, would not betray them. A messenger to Scotland Yard, near by, learned that Froest had gone home long before, but got
his address several miles away in the suburbs. An American newspaper man who knew Froest reached his home by cab after 2 o'clock in the morning. He was awakened from
the way to the Victoria and released
his fellow craftsmen.—New York Sun

Laugh and Live Long.

It has been aptly said that there is not the remotest corner of the inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some warfare from the convulsions occasioned by good hearty laughter. The life principle of the central man is shaken to its innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood moves more rapidly and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body as it visits them on that particular mystic journey when the man is laughing from that conveyed at other times. For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, conveying as it does new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

What Wellington Was Doing.

When Sir John Steel, the sculptor, had the Iron Duke sitting for a statue he tried to induce him to look warlike.
All his efforts were in vain, however,
for Wellington seemed, judging by his
face, never to have heard of Waterloo or Talavera. At last Sir John lost his patience. "As I am going to make this statue of your grace," he exclaimed,
"can you not tell me what you were doing before, say, the battle of Salamanca? Were you not galloping about the field, cheering on your men to
deeds of valor by words and action?"

"Bab!" said the duke in evident scorn. "If you really want to model me as I was on the morning of Salamanca, then do me a crawling along a ditch on my stomach with a telescope
in my hand."

A War Bismarck Forgot.

The smallest of Europe's sovereign
states, Liechtenstein, has a monarch
and a parliament but no taxes and no army. Its finances are provided by its Prince John III, who in return own-sates three of its fifteen members of parliament. At the time of the Austro-Prussian war the principality sided with Austria and mobilized an army of 100 of all ranks to share in the fighting. But Liechtenstein's army never smelled fire, and Liechtenstein itself
was quite overlooked in the peace negotiations at the end of the war. Fifteen years later Bismarck discovered
that his country was still technically
at war with this miniature state, and
in strict accordance with the etiquette of such things pourparlers took place, and a formal treaty of peace was signed
between the two countries.—West minster Gazette.

A Stone Eater.

The odder diet in the world is tleman's Magazine is described the discovery of a stone eater "in a northern inhabited island" by the crew of a Dutch ship. They brought him to

submitted to all kinds of scientific tests. It was proved that he thrived better on stones than on any other
food, and his dinner usually consisted
of large sized flints, with powdered
great attraction at fashionable gatherings, where he amused the guests by swallowing stones and afterward convincing them that there was no deception by making them rattle in his stomach.—London Chronicle.

THE COYLE-CHARLEROI

One of the striking features of the Coyle Theatre's most excellent repertoire this week was "Nemesis," or the "Down Express." This was the story of a wife's infidelity to a good husband, and the terrible retribution that overtook her later. The picture was in three parts, and in addition were two other splendid two reel films the same night. These were "Thou Shalt Not Steal," and "From Death-Life." Throughout the week the bills were equally good, if not so voluminous. The service contained among other "A Grain of Salt," a sensational experience of a young investor among some of the upper classes of Mexican nobility. The young man seeks investment, but finds a sweetheart in the form of a despised cousin of the Mexican senora. After some exciting adventures when the head of the house plots to defraud his guest. Another striking drama in the opening was "A Lucky Shot," in which a young girl of the border who is captured by Mexicans, escapes, and by a lucky shot saves a senorita from death who helped her to escape. A great feature for Saturday is a moving picture version in three reels of that beautiful old time Irish drama, "Kathleen Mavourneen." This is the drama where the pretty Irish girl comes very near marrying the lord who is struck by her charm and beauty, but a lucky dream, in which is pictured what was most likely to follow the ill-assorted match, warns her in time, and she accepts the bold Irish lad, whom she has kept dangling in suspense while flirting with the lord.

THE STAR-CHARLEROI

With a topnotch schedule for the whole week, it would be difficult to classify any extraordinary features at the Star Theatre. "Smiling Dan," a Kay Bee, was one of the distinctive features of Monday's schedule. "Some Doctor" and a "Close Shave," and "Bud Tilden, Mail Thief," completed the Monday bill, which was a fair sample of the schedule for each day thereafter. Among some of the most prominent were "The Romance," "Half Way to Reno," "Piner Things," "Some Fools There Were," and "Forced Bravery." "The Sharpshooters," was a two reel Broncho, that was thrilling and sensational. An unusual feature was in the picture, the "Pretty Girl in Lower Five," which was a story of a young man meeting a pretty girl in a Pullman on the way from Chicago to Los Angeles. Aside from the usual courtship miles and miles of desert and mountain scenery were shown. The week's bill was also exceedingly strong in comedy, among which were "The Hired Dress Suit," "Heinze's Resurrection," "The Landlord's Troubles" and others. For Saturday Manager Cowan has a big two reel Reliance feature, "The Bells," which is a master piece as shown by Henry Irving. He has also booked for Saturday, "The Deadman's Child," in three reels. For Monday the Star will open with a two reel Kay Bee, "The Counterfeiters" on the bill.

THE NIXON-PITTSBURG

Spectacular magnificence, dramatic splendor and religious ecstasy are the most notable concomitants of production of "Ben Hur," which will be the offering at the Nixon Theatre, Pittsburgh, the week commencing Monday evening, April 14, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. During the thirteen years which have passed since the original presentation of this noble drama—its owners have not only kept it up to its original grandeur, but have elaborated and developed the possibilities of the production each season, until today it stands unrivaled in beauty and splendor of establishment, unsurpassed in dramatic significance and power. Dealing with the earth life of Jesus, the most important period in history, "Ben Hur" shows the world at its most wonderful point in magnificence and wealth, for Rome ruled the world and Caesar Augustus was Emperor of the mightiest realm the earth had known. Into this time of display and pomp came the lowly Nazarene, the Christos for whom the nation had longed, and it is this personality of Jesus that, permeating the fabric of the Wallace-Young drama, makes it a sermon as well as a drama of tremendous significance. The reverence with which the imminence of Christ is indicated has made "Ben Hur" a religious pageant, while the sweep of the story of Ben Hur and Messala, Esther and Iras, carries audiences off their feet, the culmination of the dramatic plot being the chariot race, wherein Ben Hur conquers and degrades his enemy.

Nothing more realistic than this scene in the arena of the Circus of Antioch with Ben Hur and Messala contesting for supremacy has ever been imagined by a dramatist or executed by a producer. The race enthralls because on its outcome depends life, love, honor, riches to the victor, and when Ben Hur receives the victor's crown of wild olive, audiences applaud with the greatest enthusiasm. The prices for all performances are 50 cents to $1.50. Mail orders will be placed on sale Thursday April 14, in the Grand. The two men responsible for the operatic travesty, Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart, provide a vehicle of undoubted excellence. "The Song Birds" is a travesty on the conditions prevailing in grand opera, and the characters are caricatures of the most eminent grand opera stars in the world. Miss Louise Galloway, in "Little Mother," presents a story of love and truth, a tale of the home that touches a human chord of real sympathy. A tornado of mirth will be provoked by Jack Wilson, who, supported by Franklyn Batie, and Ada Lane, will play "An Upheaval in Darktown." Signor Trovata, the eccentric violinist, who was one of the stars with Harry Lauder, has been engaged to play a selection of tunes popular and classic. The grown folks, as well as the little ones, will appreciate Zercho's Dogs of all nations. Nelly V. Nichols, a character singing comedienne and mimic, will entertain with group of caricature impersonations and songs. Brown and Blyer will give a diversion of songs and patter to piano accompaniment, with just enough of tersiphere as a seasoning. The program next week will embrace a new selection of talking motion pictures. The principal subject will be the third act of "Master Mind," a wonderfully successful play in which Edmund Breeze and company are enjoying the most remarkable run of the season at the Harris Theatre, New York, and another entitled "The Worm Turns," a little story of comic import.

"The New Song Birds," one of the most unusual as well as one of the cleverest satires that has yet been produced, tops the program of refined international vaudeville on the tapis for the forthcoming week, beginning Monday afternoon, April 14, in the Grand. The two men responsible for the operatic travesty, Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart, provide a vehicle of undoubted excellence. "The Song Birds" is a travesty on the conditions prevailing in grand opera, and the characters are caricatures of the most eminent grand opera stars in the world. POINTED TRUTHS TOLD IN LECTURE BY JUDGE ALDEN

Man, home, town and commonwealth are the four things that Judge George D. Alden a Bostonian of unusual talents lectured on principally at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday in the closing number of the Charleroi Citizens' Entertainment Course. Incidentally he threw in a lot of talk about health and religion, temperance and other more or less important issues.

Proving his popularity attained on his former visit here Judge Alden drew a good sized crowd. He spoke his pleasure at being returned to Charleroi and told his audience that this was one of the places that he vividly remembered having visited because of the excellent entertainment afforded him. Before the lecture Friday night Judge Alden was a guest at a luncheon tendered by the Community Club, of which he is an honorary member.

His lecture title was "The Powder and the Match." The lecture was one of the best and most intelligent presentation of facts that has ever been heard here.

Judge Alden said that you couldn't legislate a man or a set of men into being good, but by that compelling personality of human touch you could often persuade him to be good. "Public opinion" is the thing that in many cases guides a man's destinies he said in effect.

by the promoters that the concern will employ 4,500 men. Houses in the proposed new model town will be of brick and of the cottage type. The selection of Burgettstown for the new plant was made by Mr. Heinz and Dr. Otto Sussman, chief mining engineer of the American Metal Company. Ltd., after eight months search. Tests were made of the coal and it is estimated that enough can be found on the property to supply the concern working for 75 years. R. W. Cooke, industrial agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Lines West, suggested the site approved. The American Metal Company, Ltd., has plants at Bartlesville and Collinsville, Okla.; Altoona, Pa., and in Kansas. The concern is said to be one of the largest producers of zinc in the union.

Donates $400 to Playground.
At a special meeting of the Monessen council Thursday night it was voted to appropriate $400 for the public playground to be fitted up at the Electric Park grounds.

The keynote of the lecture, however was the use of public opinion and personal influence in righting wrongful conditions. That the community is no better than the men who live in it and that to improve the community each man must improve himself were leading thoughts.

DR. EHRENFELD TO RETIRE FROM SCHOOL ACTIVITY

Dr. C. L. Ehrenfeld, former principal of the Southwestern State Normal school at California, and a widely known educator has tendered his resignation as teacher to the Normal trustees to take effect after the close of the school year.

Dr. Ehrenfeld has been connected with the California institution for 25 years. Though 52 years old he is still one of the strongest members of the faculty there, as well as one of the most popular. He occupies the chairs of psychology and school management.

Dr. Ehrenfeld accepted the principalship of California Normal in 1871, after having held pastorates at Altoona, Shippensburg and Hollidaysburg. He held the Normal position until 1877, when he resigned to take the position of financial secretary of the Department of Public Instruction. In 1878 he was appointed State Librarian and in 1881 he resigned that place to accept the chairs successively of Latin, English and of English and Logic at Wittenberg University, his alma mater. In 1892 he returned to California where he has since remained.

Dr. Ehrenfeld holds the degree of A. B., A. M. and Ph. D., Wittenberg.

COTTON PODS COME FROM THE SUNNY SOUTH

Through the courtesy of Chris. Brown, Jr., who with Mrs. Brown recently made a trip to Tennessee, the Mail has received a handsome souvenir of the sunny south—a natural cotton boll, just as it grew in the fields of the Dixie cotton belt. The souvenir is enclosed in a handsome pasteboard carton, on which are printed directions how to plant desired and to grow it on northern soil. To those who have never seen how cotton grows, the souvenir is most interesting.

An announcement that is hailed with delight is the coming of Eugene Ysaye, the world's greatest violinist, to Pittsburgh for a concert on Tuesday evening, April 15th, in Soldiers Memorial Hall. After negotiations covering practically the entire season, satisfactory arrangements have finally been made to have this celebrated master of the bow include Pittsburgh in his tour. So many requests have been received for an appearance of Ysaye in Pittsburgh this season, that it is safe to predict a capacity audience will greet him when he plays there on April 15th. The great virtuoso announces that this is positively his last visit to America, as he is averse to again undertaking the hardships in travel necessary for a concert tour. He is now a wealthy man and will live on his estate in Belgium, with short tours of the continent during the winter season, so this will be the last opportunity the music lovers of this district will have of hearing the world's greatest violinist in this country. Before coming to America for the present tour, he required a guarantee of $90,000 for the season which was furnished without question for his manager had a sweeping demand for his return. It has been a number of years since Ysaye played in Pittsburgh, and to hear him again will be a treat no lover of music will care to miss. He possesses a magnetism which charms like the musician and the amateur, because of his perfect musical expression. He is not a mere virtuoso; he is a matured artist and an incomparable master the greatest living interpreter of the works of the old masters. Ysaye will play a special program in Pittsburgh, for he has been besieged with request numbers and he will bring with him a pianist of world-wide repute.

The sale of tickets will open at Hamilton's Music Store, 531 Wood street, on Friday morning, April 11th at prices of 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Mail orders, accompanied by remittance, are received now and filled in advance.
